

TUM IDEAward Conditions of Participation

1. Entry Conditions and Restrictions

- The IDEAward is aimed at students, scientists, graduates, employees and alumni of the Technical University of Munich (TUM) with technologies and ideas from science and research.
- The participation in the competition can be done as an individual or a team. Only one idea can be submitted per person and team. The application has to be submitted by the person with a relation to TUM.
- A team may only consist of a maximum of 50% TUM Bachelor students and/or External members. If applying as an individual, there must be a TUM connection as Master student / scientist / employee / graduate.
- The competition is thematically open.
- The application phase ends on 30 June 2024. Applications received after this date will not be considered.
- Ideas that have already been implemented in existing companies or companies where related business activities have already been initiated, are excluded from entry. This condition also applies if the company was founded outside Germany.
- Furthermore, ideas are excluded which are already financed by funding programmes such as EXIST or similar.
- Founding may not take place until the prize is awarded.
- Reapplication is possible.
- Legal recourses is excluded.

2. Organizers

The organizers of the IDEAward are the Technical University of Munich, UnternehmerTUM GmbH, and the Zeidler Research Foundation, henceforth referred to as the “organizers”.

3. Registration and Application Phase

- To participate in the IDEAward an application is required.
- The application proceeds in two phases:

Phase 1 - deadline 30 June 2024

For the first phase please submit the online application form - TUM IDEAward 2024. After an initial selection, the best ideas and projects will be admitted to phase 2.

Phase 2 - deadline 30 September 2024

The selected teams will be invited to submit the following documents and take note of the following dates:

- Clarification of the patent situation and requirements with TUM ForTe Patents & Licenses with deadline 20 September.
- Idea Draft to be sent as a PDF to ideaward(at)tum.de until 30 September including:
 - ten-page detailed draft of the idea
 - CVs of the team members as an attachment to the idea draft
- Presentation of the idea to a jury (CW 46)
- Participation in a Pitch Training, led by an external coach (CW 47)
- Participation on the Award ceremony on 28 November
- Participation in the Deep Impact Workshop

PLEASE NOTE:

- Other attachments will not be considered.
- Throughout phases 1 and 2, all teams should be available to answer any questions by phone or email.
- About the content to be considered for phase 2, you will be informed in detail by e-mail.
- The following formalities apply: Arial font, font size 11, line spacing 1.5
- Only competition entries filed to deadline in the given periods of Phase 1 and Phase 2, and which are formally correct and on the specified media will be considered.
- Competition entries will not be returned after the competition close.

4. Awards and Prizes

- The sketches of ideas submitted in phase 2 will be submitted to a jury. These sketches of ideas will be evaluated by the jury in the four categories: Innovation content and state of the art, market and competition, team and implementation perspective. In addition, all participants in phase 2 will present their ideas to the jury members in a short presentation followed by a question and answer session. The short presentation is also included in the evaluation of the ideas.
- The composition of the jury will be announced at the short presentation.
- The awards for the three best ideas will take place on 30 November 2023. The first place winner will receive prize money of € 15,000.00. Second place will receive € 12,500.00 and third place € 10,000.00.
- All final teams will take part in an individual pitch training (before the award ceremony) and a workshop “Deep Impact for Start-ups”.
- The three winners of the IDEAward also receive individual consulting services from TUM Start-up Consulting. These are recorded in a start-up roadmap for the next steps of the idea development.
- The prize money is to be used for the further development of the idea. There are no concrete guidelines for its use. It is usually paid out in two stages. The first half of the prize money is paid out directly after the award ceremony, the second half after the interim presentation.

- By accepting the prize money, the teams commit to holding an interim presentation for representatives of the organizer, approximately 3 months after the award, and a final presentation to present the project's progress after 6 months.
- In the absence of prize-worthy entries, the awards ceremony will be waived.
- EXIST funded teams must coordinate with the project sponsor regarding the receipt of prize money.

5. Cancellation of Competition

The organizers reserve the right to cancel the contest without prior notice or obligation. Participants retain no claims to any specific prize.

6. Confidentiality and Data Protection

- The ideas and documents submitted by the contestants will be treated confidentially and used exclusively for the purposes of the competition.
- The participants agree that their submitted documents and data will be forwarded to the jury. The organizers agree not to redistribute the submitted short descriptions and idea drafts to third parties without the consent of the participant. This applies both to the duration of the competition as well as the period thereafter.
- Competitors consent to the publication (TUM publications, press releases) of the submitted ideas admitted to Phase 2.
- All documents and data, if not permission is not explicitly refused, will, after the conclusion of the competition, be included in the database of the TUM start-up network for the purpose of possible subsequent contact. In the event of refusal of permission, the data will be deleted after the contest.

7. Liability

- The organizer shall be liable to the competitors for damages only if they have been caused intentionally or through gross negligence. Liability for lost profit is excluded. The limitations do not apply for damages resulting from injury to life, limb, or health
- Participants exempt the organizer from all possible claims by third parties that could be derived from any violations of copyrights, industrial property rights, trade secrets, or other rights due to the documents submitted.
- The organizers assume no liability for the correctness of the statements made by judges and other persons participating in the competition.

8. Miscellaneous

- Ideas and inventions that have arisen in the course of employment at TUM are to be treated in accordance with the TUM IP Policy (Intellectual Property Strategy) (see also: www.forte.tum.de/technologietransfer/tum-patentpolitik/)
- The judges' decision is final.
- Should individual provisions of these terms and conditions of participation be or become wholly or partly invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected.
